PIONEER WASHER.
E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and boiling, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes.

It having a tight cover, the steam thus used is materially in cleansing the clothes, and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to old housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

THE COUNTY RIGHTS, now unsold, will be sold at a bargain if applied for soon.

HUMBOLDT, ALIAS MORMON BASIN,
BAKER CO., OREGON, Aug. 25, 1867.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Some days since I received a few "specimen" OREGONIANS for distribution, from your agent, Mr. Bently, desiring subscribers. You should have in this and the surrounding camps, a large number of regular subscribers. The Union element is strong enough to justify this conclusion. We lack mail facilities. Our nearest post-office is at the Express Ranch, Burnt river, on the old Immigrant road, distant fifteen miles. In the summer season we have a one-horse express that runs very irregularly, and on it we depend for the delivery of our letters and papers. In winter the Norwegian snow shoe is brought in requisition, perhaps once a month, by some enterprising individual, charging one dollar each for the delivery of letters and papers. At no season of the year can an OREGONIAN be purchased for less than four bits. This is too onerous a tax for but few to indulge in. Papers delivered to subscribers in the summer season, aside from their subscription, twenty-five cents each. Carriers generally leave regular papers one week behind, hoping thereby to sell the latest papers for four bits apiece. With the above explanation you will readily comprehend why it is that so few subscribers are found in this portion of Baker county. We have recently petitioned the Postal Agent, Mr. Brooks, to intercede for us in the establishment of a post-office at this place and a post-route from the Express Ranch, once a week, by the way of Rye Valley. I am confident that responsible parties can be found in this camp to carry the same for $1,200 a year. So soon as this mail is granted us, and in operation, we will send you a respectable list of subscribers.

You will observe that this camp is known by two names. For your benefit I will explain: In '62 the camp was named by the discoverers, "Humboldt Basin," they being from the silver mines near Humboldt river, in Nevada. Prior to its being called Humboldt Basin, three disciples of Brigham Young mined here for a few weeks, and in referring to the basin where the Mormons were working, finally called it Mormon Basin. Our county business is done as Humboldt Basin.

Captured by a Lion

The African lion has been well called the fiercest and most terrible of beasts. He is also possessed of extraordinary sagacity, and many instances of his magnanimity are on record. In Africa, these animals, from the fact that they have less frequently came in contact with man, fear him less, and are much bolder in their attacks upon him.

We had spread our dinner, one day, under the shadow of some tall trees, and when the [illegible] was concluded, being weary from the day's [illegible] and oppressed by the sultriness of the atmosphere I very imprudently pillowed my head upon [illegible] lock and fell asleep. A friend who traveled with me followed my example. The lassitude occasioned by the extreme heat of the day was so great as to make our guides (usually trusty guardians) careless, and in the midst of a delightful dream [illegible] was awakened by a roar as of thunder, and [illegible] in the same instant I felt as though my head had been caught in a monstrous vice, and [illegible] ing crushed to atoms. Something of the [illegible] indeed happened; but instead of a vice, [illegible] of an enormous lion had fastened upon my [illegible] flecing back into the forest, bearing [illegible] with the ease a cat would a mouse, and [illegible] wide pathway for himself among the bushes, impeded his progress.

My friends fired after us and sprang forward in pursuit almost instantly. My terrible captor [illegible] have been wounded, for he dropped me at [illegible] But instead of leaving me, he stood looking [illegible] a moment at his pursuers, and omitting a [illegible] thunder growls by which the lion commonly expresses his anger. He seized me again and renewed his progress through the jungle.

Fortunately, and by the strangest chance in the world, I had full possession of my senses. After the first lightning shock of agony in waking, I was not conscious of pain, and I seemed in those brief seconds to have lived hours, so intense was my consciousness of my peril. The sweet dream from which I had been aroused, flushed through my brain, as if to mock the real horror of my situation, and I thought with anguish indescribable of those dear ones at home who perhaps would never know how I had perished.

When the lion dropped me an instant on the ground, and I heard the approaching shouts of my friends, hope revived as suddenly as despair had fallen upon me.

But in the point of the moment, the pursuers had exhausted their shots without any apparent result; and while they paused to reload, the lion, as before stated, seizing me again in his powerful jaws, resumed his flight.

I always carried in my belt a yataghan, a reminiscence of my sojourn in Turkey, which had more than once already proved of infinite service to me, it was so keen and true a blade, and so convenient to the hand. Could I clasp my fingers on this, I felt that I might at last save myself from being devoured by the rapacious monster.

It was my left shoulder upon which his immense jaws had closed, and, as I hung, my right arm trailed on the ground, and was already so bruised from contact with the bushes, that it was only by a powerful effort of the will I could control it at all; but by making an almost superhuman effort, I succeeded in obtaining a hold upon the yataghan, which I drew from its sheath, and plunged blindly into my foe, unable, of course, to tell where I struck or to aim at a vital part.

The blade of a yataghan, is however, longer than that of a common dagger, and, as I drew it forth, blood followed it in spouting streams. My enemy was too surprised to show fight, and for the second time let me fall, staggering himself as I fell, and not seeming to know what had hurt him.

I lay quite still—indeed, I was unable to move, being in a fainting condition from my own loss of blood, and exhausted by the violence of the effort I had made to wound the lion. Probably, if I had shown any sign of life, a blow from one of his immense paws would have finished me; but, as I lay quiet, and seemingly dead, he did not offer to touch me—the lion rarely wreaks his vengeance on a dead foe.

When my companions came up at last, I had really fainted; and the lion lay at a little distance evidently dying, but still with too much fight in him, as evinced by the glaring of his eyes, and too much strength in his huge limbs, to make a near approach altogether safe.

Remo and the rest, however, attacked him with their spears, and soon dispatched him. I was then carefully lifted upon a hastily constructed litter of boughs, and borne to a more convenient place to have my wounds dressed.

I shall always carry the marks of this encounter—indeed I was so mangled and bruised that it is a wonder my life was saved at all, I did not, however, sustain any injury likely to affect me, beyond deep scars.

UNDERGROUND TELEGRAPHY.—Engineers have been for a long time anxious to discover some means of laying telegraph wires beneath the earth's surface, as air lines are apt to be broken, are influenced by atmospheric effects, and may be "tapped" or tampered with in the course of the transmission of messages. A great obstacle to underground telegraphy has been the difficulty of insulating the wires. Gutta percha coverings are said to be liable to oxidation, and iron tubes are too expensive. Mr. Donald Nicoll exhibits at the Paris Exposition, a system of telegraph wires in which a very perfect insulation and practical indestructibility are provided. The wires, as prepared and insulated under the new system, can be laid in considerable numbers and fixed by unskilled labor. They may be laid in trenches formed by an ordinary sub soil plow in any description of soil, or in the slat and mud of the sea shores or rivers. When so placed, the wires are not affected by the pressure of the earth upon them, and they have the advantage of being not only secure, but secret, for their course can only be discovered when laid by those who possess the key to the route. The prepared wires may be laid between the rails and railway, or will do their work with equal efficiency to the depths of a line of sewers. The rapidity with which the wires can be laid is such that twenty miles of sections, containing fifty wires, could be laid in one day by thirty laborers. There is no restriction as to the number of wires which may be laid at one operation.—American Journal of Mining.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 7, 1867.

The California Election.

Last June when we heard of the action of the Union State Convention of California we stated that "it would not be at all surprising if the ticket should be beaten in the September election." What was then anticipated as a probability the result has fully confirmed. The dissatisfaction of the party with its nominees was so deep and so general as to produce utter demoralization in its ranks. Nothing less than this could have produced the results of the late election. The most powerful Republican papers in the State assailed the ticket with extraordinary vehemence from first to last, and the party is beaten by its own action rather than by the strength of its opponents. With an acceptable ticket which would have inspired the confidence and commanded the full vote of the party, it would have succeeded by its usual majority. The lesson of this election is a severe one, but if it teaches party manipulators that the will of the people is to be regarded in making nominations, it will not be without its uses. We know not whether the candidates were as corrupt and dishonest as they were charged with being; but it was evident from the first that the leading ones and those who managed the Convention were not the choice of the party and did not have its confidence. Whether they were worthy or unworthy, this fact should have been a sufficient reason for them to stand aside. Through this unfortunate action California is made to assume an attitude of hostility to the other States which were loyal during the war, and is thrown into the hands of the rebel, traitor-loving Democracy. This result in a State whose sentiment is as sound as that of Vermont or Illinois, is nothing less than humiliating. Of course Copperheads who shouted with joy on hearing of rebel victories, and who exulted in their hearts when President Lincoln was assassinated, will jubilate loudly over their unexpected and accidental victory.

THE STATE FAIR.—It is understood that efforts will be made to render the approaching State Fair more attractive than any of its predecessors, and to have a better exhibition of the products of Oregon industry than we have ever had before. The State Agricultural Society, guided by the experience of former years, are taking measures to secure the best possible display, and to this end they solicit the co-operation of the people of the whole State. The State is steadily growing, the products of our industry are continually multiplying, and there is every reason why our Agricultural Fairs should increase in interest and grow better every year. By taking hold in earnest the people may make the Fair a success in itself and highly profitable to themselves. Every individual and every class may contribute to the grand result. Every branch of industry should be represented, so that people from different and distant parts of the State may be able to form an idea of our resources, to obtain information in regard to the sources of our wealth, and to become acquainted with the varied and extensive capabilities of the State for the production of the multifarious articles and commodities which are necessary to the prosperity of a great community. Oregon can have an exhibition which will be both creditable and interesting, and such as one as cannot fail to suggest further improvements and new methods in almost every department of industry. Only comparative excellence has yet been attained in any of the fields of labor, and they who would improve must take account of what others have done and are doing, and must compare the various methods and results with each other to learn which is best and ascertain where improvement is desirable and possible. A Fair may be made to contribute largely to these results, and a progressive people should omit no opportunity to learn and to put in practice those processes which will add to their prosperity.

THE TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES.—The Herald is grumbling because the OREGONIAN is not disposed to join in cutting off the telegraphic dispatches. It complains that the bulk of the dispatches are of little value and says that it has made several attempts to reduce the quantity and improve the quality by employing an intelligent correspondent at San Francisco for this purpose, but has failed because it could not secure the co-operation of the OREGONIAN. The only proposition that the Herald ever made to us, was to stop the dispatches entirely. This we did not choose to do, nor do we choose to enter into any arrangement with that paper in this or any other matter of business. We were taking the dispatches when that paper was started; we have taken them from the time the telegraph was put in operation, and shall continue to take them. What the Herald wishes or intends to do is none of our business. If it wants to discontinue the dispatches or publish any less amount than it has been publishing, it is at perfect liberty to do so, and if it wants to get its dispatches under any different arrangement from that under which it has been receiving them, that is equally no concern of ours. If it is not satisfied with its own business affairs it has everybody's permission to make such changes in them as it sees fit. The OREGONIAN prefers to print all the news it can get, and intends to continue doing so. If any one supposes he can publish a newspaper successfully in Oregon without telegraphic dispatches, or with a meagre report, he is at liberty to try the experiment. The readers of the OREGONIAN may, however, be assured that they will obtain in this paper, as heretofore, all the Eastern dispatches published in the California Journals.

Seven or eight years ago a poem was published in the New York Tribune in which the American Flag was called "a taunting lie," "hate's polluted rag" and other names similarly odious. Half the territory then covered by the "flag of freedom" was devoted to slavery, and the object in publishing the poem was to set this fact forth in revolting colors. The author of the piece, who is now known to have been that prince of literary Bohemians, Charles G. Halpine of the New York Citizen, was intent only on producing a spirited piece of rhyme, and cared nothing about the impropriety of the expressions he used in speaking of the national banner. He is an earnest Democrat, and the paper he edits is a strong and uncompromising Democratic journal. Last fall he was elected by a tremendous majority to one of the principal offices in the City of New York. He has publicly avowed the authorship of the poem, and thinks it one of his most clever performances. Copperhead editors are therefore indebted to a brother Copperhead for "the flaunting lie" which they have been endeavoring to make so much of for several years. When a Democrat is heard to make any remarks about the piece, just let him be reminded that its author is one of his own kind.

MILITARY.—We get the following military news from the Vancouver Register: To-day a General Court Martial will convene at San Juan Island for the trial of general prisoners. Another Court Martial will convene on the 21st inst., in Portland, the same that was in session at that place a short time since.... ....On Wednesday morning Lieut. Dodge, 23d Infy., U S A, left with a detachment of 25 recruits for Baker City, via Wallula. On the same day Lieut Houston, of the same regiment left for Fort Colville, with a detachment of 30 men. .....We learn from a private letter written by S P. McDonald to Harry Wood of this city, that news has been received at Fort Ellsworth, that Gen. Crook has about 1,000 Indians hemmed in between there and Camp Warner. His force consists of three companies of cavalry and four of infantry, and that he is only waiting the arrival of Kelly's expedition to make the attack. It is supposed that the packers and herders will be furnished with arms and are expected to do their share of fighting the Indians.

STATE ITEMS

The following named gentlemen applied for admission to the Bar of the Supreme Court on the 4th inst: H Y Thompson, B. Gaby, W N Bancroft, S L Simpson, W C Whitten, C. B Upton, —— Forbes, G Webster, B Kiblin, M Reichheimer.

The scamps who robbed two Frenchmen a few days ago while on their way from Burnt river to Ryn Valley, have been caught. They were captured south of Canyon City, and brought back to Auburn and lodged in jail. The Frenchmen recovered their stock.

From the Record we learn that the frame of the new Howard oil mill was to have been raised on Thursday. The company has already on hand about 1000 bushels of flaxseed, and the time is drawing near when this new branch of Oregon production and manufacture will be in successful operation.

A meeting of the Bar of the Supreme Court was held at Salem on the 3d inst., and a Committee was appointed to draft resolutions in relation to the death of Judge Stratton. The resolutions were reported to the Court and memorial addresses on the deceased were delivered by several members of the Court and Bar. The proceedings were ordered to be entered on the Journals of the Court. It was also ordered that the Court wear the usual badge of mourning during the continuance of the term.

A letter from Burnt river (August 20th) states the following: I learn from reliable authority that some enterprising citizens of Portland have recently taken hold of the "Burnt River Ditch," and are determined to complete the same as soon as money and men can accomplish it. They purpose completing eleven miles this fall, the contract being let and active operations commenced. This will bring 300 inches of water into the Shasta creek diggings next spring. Shouts of Joy will go up from the miners on its arrival.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.—The following items are from the Register. Mr. Michael Carroll, who has been employed for some time past on Mr. Durgan's scow, met his death accidentally on Wednesday evening by drowning in the Columbia river. He had been in town late in the evening with a friend and was returning to the boat probably a little intoxicated, when he fell overboard just as his friend was about to strike a light to aid in coming aboard. Deceased was a native of Ireland, had been employed here for more than two years and is supposed to have relatives residing at or near Portland. Search has been made for the body, but it has as yet not been recovered. ....A negro boy employed as a servant in the Garrison, was arrested and examined before Justice Smith on Tuesday on a charge of assault with intent to commit a rape upon a little girl eight years old. A number of witnesses were examined, but the evidence did not fasten any guilt upon the prisoner, except that the witnesses and accused had been punishing a good deal of lager beer, and consequently had not a very clear remembrance of facts and events. The Justice however found the prisoner guilty of disorderly conduct upon general principles, and sent him up for ten days at hard labor.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—We clip the subjoined items from the Enterprise. The steamer Senator made a special trip from this city on Wednesday, bringing up a quantity of iron from the Oswego works for shipment above.....It gives us pleasure to say that Mr J T Wortley, Superintendent of the woolen factory, has permanently located in this city, having given up his proposed trip to the Atlantic States. His family is now here at home with him.....Messrs Ames are busy excavating for the street mains of the Water Company, and before next Saturday night one of those fine iron street hydrants will appear in front of this office. Three hydrants have been placed in position already.....On Wednesday afternoon Arthur Charman, son of Maj. Thomas Charman of this city, while out riding his horse, was thrown. He held on to the bridle rein, and the horse, a spirited one, in its effort to get away, stopped upon the boy's groin inflicting painful wounds.

Late News from Washington.

The following are Washington dispatches of August 12th, received here by the overland mail. The account given of the difficulty between Judge Fisher and J. H. Bradley, a lawyer employed in the Surratt case, will explain several hitherto almost unintelligible dispatches which we have published in relation to the affair. The first part of the subjoined dispatch it a communication of the jury in the Surratt trial to the Court:

To Hon. J. R. Fisher, Judge of Criminal Court:

The jury in the case of the United States vs. John H. Surratt, most respectfully state, that they stand precisely now as when they first balloted. Upon entering the room they are nearly equally divided, and they are firmly convinced that they cannot possibly agree upon a verdict. We deem our duty to the court and to the country, and, in view of the condition of our private affairs and of our families, and in fact the health of several of our members becoming seriously impaired under prolonged confinement, to make this statement, and ask your Honor to discharge us at once.

Most respectfully submitted.

(Signed by all the jurors.)

After some conversation Judge Fisher ordered the jury discharged.

Judge Fisher rose and read the following: I have a very unpleasant duty to discharge, but one I cannot forego. On the second day of July last, during the progress of the trial of John H. Surratt, for the murder of Abraham Lincoln, immediately after the court had taken a recess until the following morning, as the presiding Judge was descending from the Bench, J. H. Bradley accosted him in a rude manner, charging the Judge with having offered him (Bradley) a series of insults, from the Bench, from the commencement of the trial. The Judge disclaimed any intention whatever of passing any insult, and assured Mr. Bradley he had entertained for him no other feeling but of respect. Mr. Bradley so far from accepting this explanation or disclaimer, thereupon threatened the Judge with personal chastisement, as he understood him.

No Court can administer justice or live if its Judges are to be threatened with personal violence on all occasions whenever the irascibility of the counsel may be excited by imaginary insult. The offense of Mr. Bradley is one which even his years will not palliate, it cannot be overlooked or go unpunished, as the contempt of the Court it is therefore ordered that his name be stricken from the rolls of Attorneys practising in this Court.

Bradley immediately rose and asked if the Court had adjourned. Judge Fisher replied "It had not."

Mr. B. said, then Sir in presence of the Court and assembly I hereby pronounce the statement just made by the Judge as utterly false in every particular.

Judge F., [interrupting B.]—Crier, adjourn this Court.

The Crier—"This Court is now adjourned.

Mr. B.—Well then I will say now—

Judge Fisher, [rising to leave the bench.]—You can say what you please, and make a speech to the crowd if you like.

Mr. B.—You have no authority to dismiss me from the bar, that must be the act of the three Judges of the Supreme Court.

Judge Fisher made a reply, which was not heard by the reporter, and left the room, followed by a large crowd.

Immediately after leaving the court room the Judge proceeded to the street and entered a car, followed closely by Bradley, who entered the car, and stepping up to Judge Fisher handed him a note. Judge F. took the note, and began to read it. Mr. B. turned and left the car, around which an excited crowd had gathered. It is understood the note was a challenge. Several policemen sprang into the car, and officer McHenry stepped to the side of Bradley and kept in that position while he remained in the car. On leaving, Mr Bradley passed through the crowd and entered his office, followed by several friends belonging to the bar. A large crowd immediately gathered on the corner near his office. After remaining in his office a few minutes, Mr. Bradley came out arm in arm with his brother and went down Louisiana Avenue, followed by a crowd of friends and curious persons, who excitedly discussed the proceedings just transpired.

In the meantime Judge Fisher retained his seat in the car and continued the perusal of the note while the car moved off. A number of his personal friends had entered the car, and a great deal of apprehension was manifested of a personal encounter between the Judge and the deposed lawyer.

The order of Judge Fisher dismissing Bradley created a most intense excitement among all classes.

LOSS OF THE BARK "LIZZIE BOGGS."—The following from the Victoria Colonist of August 4th, gives additional particulars of the loss of the bark Lizzie Boggs, in the straits of Fuca:

The mate, second mate, and four seamen belonging to the American bark Lizzie Boggs, Capt Townsend, 450 tons register, bound from San Francisco for Port Discovery, to load with lumber, were brought up yesterday on the Hawaiian bark Ava, the first named vessel having been wrecked ten miles southward of Cape Flattery, on Saturday afternoon last, by running ashore during a dense fog. The vessel went to pieces on Sunday night, the officers and crew making their escape in boats, saving only a few articles of clothing, the ship's papers, chronometer, etc. The place where Boggs struck was within ten feet of a perpendicular rock. The shock was very severe. Two seamen were left to take charge of any article of value that might come ashore, while the captain and the others came to Neah Bay, off which on Monday they sighted the Ava, bound for Victoria, and, with the exception of the captain, who remains at Neah Bay, were taken aboard, kindly treated and landed at this point yesterday.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I beg space in your columns to say, in answer to frequent inquiries from my friends, that I am not the author of any articles which have appeared in the OREGONIAN, or any other newspaper, upon the subject of the Hudson's Bay Company's Claims. Any comments I may have to make upon the subject will be addressed to the Commissioners, when the testimony is finally submitted.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 5.

Proclamation by the President

CHICAGO, Sept 4.—The President yesterday issued a proclamation called forth by Sickles' order No 10, that whereas it is the duty of the President to enforce the power and decisions of the courts, made in pursuance of the Constitution and laws; also that it is the duty of the civil and military officers to respect the Constitution and obey the direction of the President or their immediate superiors officers; and that whereas, in fact, impediments and obstructions have been interposed in the States of North and South Carolina, preventing the proper enforcement of the laws of the United States in the lawful courts thereof, in disregard of the command of the President, therefore he warns all persons against obstructing or hindering in any manner the faithful execution of the Constitution and laws, and orders all officers, civil and military, to render due submission and obedience to the judgments and decrees of the courts of the United States, and give all aid in their power necessary to the enforcement of said laws, judgments and decrees and the President hereby orders all officers of the Army and Navy to sustain the courts and civil authorities of the United States in the faithful Administration of the laws thereof, and the judgments and decrees of the Courts, and he desires all good citizens to remember that on said Constitution, the laws and integrity of the Courts, depend the protection of the lives, liberty and happiness of the people.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, Sept 5.—The Times' special says that Grant has had a long and important interview with the President in relation to the proclamation relative to Sickles' order. Rumor says high words occurred, but nothing is divulged regarding the interview by either of their friends. Both agree, however, that the differences of opinion are irreconcileable regarding the reenforcement of the reconstruction law.

The amnesty proclamation will be issued in a few days. Only about one hundred persons, now undergoing indictment, will be excepted from its provisions.

It is understood that an order removing Pope will soon be issued.

Canby relieved Sickles to day.

The President remarked yesterday that one Cabinet Minister will soon be removed, meaning Secretary Seward.

The correspondence between Seward and the Austrian and Mexican Minister, Dix, is published, in relation to the intervention in behalf of Maximilian. Nothing new is contained in it.

The Tribune's special says Randall hopes soon to have a postal treaty with Spain, that will enable him to open an American postal department in Cuba. At present sixty thousand dollars' worth of postal matter goes to Cuba. There is no American agent to take charge of it on arrival.

The representations of leading foreign journals interpret the President's movement as a deliberate attempt to defeat the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

Specials to the New York papers give different versions of the interview between Grant and the President yesterday, conjecturing that serious difficulties have arisen. Both officers preserve reticence on the subject. Nothing definite is known as to the character of the interview. It is thought that Grant will soon be ordered back to the army. Steedman is named to succeed him in the war office, but he says he would not accept it.

The papers generally agree that the amnesty proclamation will be substantially as telegraphed. Grant concurs with the President's views in regard to the matter.

The Tribune's special says the significant fact has recently transpired that Stanton himself urged Grant to accept the war office.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Sickles' letter to Grant, written before the publication of the Attorney General's opinion, is published. It is very lengthy. He says the charge that he made issue with the Supreme Court and defied its decrees, is utterly unfounded, but if subordinate functionaries of the Court choose to execute its functions, they must be controlled, or the military authority established over those States is defied and must be set aside. The issue made is ostensibly with the military commander, but really with Congress. The same reason that induced him to stay the collection of debts in the State Courts applied equally to cases in all the Courts. He believes Congress, intending to secure the restoration of these States to the Union, made all other considerations subsidiary to this. The process of the Courts must not be allowed to override the orders that Congress empowered him to make for its execution. Sickles says he had never received any intimation, directly or indirectly, that his superior in authority differed with him in this opinion. He says if we allow the Courts their authorities and functions in this Military District, a wide door for fraud and perjury by creditors is opened to secure the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts in cases which rightfully belong to State Courts.

The General proceeds to detail the circumstances leading to the issue of Order No. 10. He defends his course at great length, and concludes as follows: "Reconstruction in the Carolinas has been done quietly without violence, without the actual exercise of force, though it is known that force is here and will be used if necessary. Nor can I hesitate in giving you as my deliberate conviction that if the civil agencies had been employed in reconstruction or allowed to control the military in the measures taken, they would have failed and that failure would have rendered necessary some time a resort to military force, not to preserve order but to suppress violence and bloodshed. When I consider how seemingly hopeful are this tired out people, and how little remains to be done to secure all the fruits of a difficult war waged, and how near is the approach to a returned union, when I realize to myself all this to be put at great peril and hazard by measures which threaten to impair the authority and lessen the means of those on whom success or failure depends, I have only to express in a most respectful manner my astonishment and regret. That done, and having performed the further duty of presenting fully my report of failure in the consideration of important questions at issue, I shall faithfully perform any order you may give."

European News by Steamer.

NEW YORK, Sept 4.—The steamship Persia has arrived from Queenstown with dates to August 25.

While the Queen of England was en route for Balmoral, it was discovered that the Queen's carriage could not pass through the bridges of the Westerly Railroad. The carriage was accordingly changed. But for the timely discovery a fearful accident must have occurred.

Two men at Manchester disappeared after purchasing goods extensively, leaving debts to the amount of 250,-000 pounds.

The London Globe says it is not unlikely that Lord Stanley and Disraeli will visit Ireland during the recess of Parliament.

It is confirmed that cholera has appeared at Rotterdam, and has assumed an epidemic character. It has also appeared at many places in the neighborhood. A severe outbreak of the disease is also reported at Montilloy, on the southern slope of the Alps.

Reports of the rising in Spain are increasing. A severe fight occurred at Centonzas, the insurgents—except the leaders and about thirty followers—being cut to pieces. The Madrid Gazette, (official), declares that in Catalonia and Arragon, the rebels are everywhere, and full of fight. It also announces that the insurgents in those provinces have been beaten in several engagements. The loyal attitude of the army has essentially contributed to this result, and confidence is re-established.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—A dispatch from Constantinople says intelligence has been received there that the British prisoners in Abyssinia have gained their freedom.

A Congress of the leading Democrats of Europe meets at Geneva, on the 9th. Victor Hugo, Louis Blanc, Jules Favre and Garibaldi have signified their intention to be present. The object of the Congress is to make a demonstration in favor of peace.

The Times to-day editorially comments on the correspondence in the Alabama case, and remarks that Seward shows by his dispatches that he is unwilling to forego by definite settlement the peculiar ground of complaint against England, and like a lawyer, is loud in anxious for judgment than to prolong legislation.

The Times asserts the counter claims of England as a balance and complains that Seward declines to adopt the plan of a mixed commission proposed by himself. It concludes by saying Lord Stanley has all along acted in good faith with the determination if not giving capital to a certain class of American politicians, who use Europe seeking cause of complaint against England, but under the circumstances he will wait until the United States Government reduces its pretensions.

A dispatch from Madrid says the Spanish fleet is in South American waters.

A large meeting is being held under the direction of the Reform League. The assembly was quite orderly and made prolonged manifestations of sympathy for the Fenian convicts.

The Baden races were attended by an immense concourse of people nearly every nationality being represented. The principal event was the International St. Ledger. The best English, French and German stock was entered. The race was won by the French horse Trocadero.

VIENNA, Sept 4.—It is reported that Von Beust is maturing a plan for the sale of the church property.

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept 5.—The latest private dispatches from California give the information that the Democrats have carried the State by a majority of from 7,000 to 10,000. All of the State ticket is elected. The Congressman in San Francisco district Axtell, is elected by a large majority. There is every probability that every Congressman in the Democratic ticket is elected, and that they have a large majority in both branches of the Legislature. Stockton county has gone Democratic by majorities of from 25 to 225.

YREKA, Sept 5.—So far as we have heard the election on Wednesday passed off quietly throughout the State. The contest was warm and stubbornly contested in every county. The vote of all the important counties have been received. The Democratic candidate for Governor carried San Francisco by 4,000 majority. The Democrats elected their entire legislative and county ticket. Sacramento county gives 1,0 majority, Democratic. There seems to be no doubt but that the Democrats will have a majority in the Legislature. The entire Democratic State ticket is elected by a majority of 8,000.

THE FAVORABLE TIME HAS ARRIVED.

We can assure the ladies that they can now find on KOHN & FISHEL'S counters, the handsomest, cheapest and most desirable dress goods—from calico to the richest and most costly fabrics—that have been brought to Portland since the war began. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All neglected pictures taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. SOCIETY OF PIONEERS.—Since 1834, several attempts have been made to induce the pioneers of Oregon to organize themselves into a society, for the purpose of preserving from oblivion the history of the early settlement of the country. Each attempt, however, resulted in failure During the present summer, the disposition has been revived again, with prospects that appear more promising of success The following call for a meeting has been agreed upon by a number of those who have taken the most active interest in the matter:

"To the Pioneers of Oregon."—All who participated in the organization and support of the Provisional Government, coming to this country by land or water, are invited and requested to meet at Salem on the second day of the State Fair, for the purpose of forming a "Pioneer Society," adopting such regulations as shall be deemed advisable, and arranging for an annual meeting All pioneers, or any others interested in establishing the proposed Society, are requested to interest themselves and to procure the names in full of all old residents, their postoffice address, their age and date of arrival in Oregon, before or during the existence of the Provisional Government, including wives, sons and daughters, that came with them, and the State or country from which they came. This will enable the society, when formed, to furnish a catalogue of all old residents and pioneers of the country. Should any one be unable to attend, as above requested, they will confer a favor by sending their names and approval or disapproval of the object, to the following addresses Daniel Waldo, G. H. Parrish, T. D. Keizer, at Portland, G. H. Couch, Geo Abernethy, A. L. Lovejoy, at Oregon City, Cary Johnson or any old resident; at Eugene City, A. A. Skinner, J. C. Avery, W. W. Bristow; Jesse Applegate, Oakland, Douglas county; Joel Palmer, Dayton, Yamhill county. R. Shortess, Clatsop county, or to W. H. Gray, Astoria. All of the gentlemen named, will be happy to facilitate the object proposed, and see that names are duly enrolled at Salem.

No one will question for a moment the propriety or usefulness of such an organization. The history of the Provisional Government of Oregon and of its early pioneers, is yet to be given to the world—in fact to be gathered and placed on record for the future historian of Oregon. None can do it so well as those who acted in it, and an interchange of social thoughts and conversation, with a record of their arrival and residence in the country, will form an interesting chapter for the future historian. We say, then, come one and all, be present or write and let us know your sentiments. It will cost you but a few postage stamps at most, and you can give your name as an early resident of the land in which you have dwelt so long. Many of our number have struggled long and hard to make this a bright and happy home for those that shall come after us. After the eighteenth year of our Territorial and State existence, we propose to gather up the most interesting events of the seventeen previous years, and restore it to the page of our early history. This we owe to the present and the future. Let us meet then, as many as can. Those who cannot meet at Salem, should send their statement there, or to one of the parties named, so that at some future time the Society may have the benefit of their experience, as well for the present as for future ages.

Since writing the above we have consulted with a number of the old pioneers, and a wish is expressed for county organizations auxiliary to the Oregon Pioneer organization; each county, when there are three or more, to form a society and send a report and as many delegates as they can. In this case all the pioneers of the country can be represented at the general meeting though the notice is short The persons named or any others in each county in Oregon, Idaho, Montana or Washington, can send the delegates or proxies, and call the proposed meetings as soon after the receipt of this request as is possible, and organize for the first meeting at Salem, or at least for the first annual meeting. Every year our number is diminishing. Let us retire from the stage having completed our work, so well and so nobly begun. We would suggest and recommend general or county or neighborhood meetings on the 21st of September, for the purpose of organizing primary or auxiliary societies."

COUNTY COURT.—Proceedings of Friday, Sept. 6th: In the matter of the estate of J. T. McDan, deceased, John McCraken, administrator; petition filed for an order authorizing the sale of the real estate of said deceased, described as follows: Being the south half of lot 3 and the north half of lot 4 in block 78; lots 1, 2, 3, 6, 7 and 8, in block 100; the undivided half of the east quarters of lots 5 and 6, in block 39; lots 1 and 2, in block 74; all in the city of Portland; and the fractional west half of the southeast quarter of section 28, and the fractional west half of the northeast quarter of section 33, in town 4 south, range 3 west, containing about 83.60 acres, situate in Yamhill county; hearing of petition set for October 7th, 1867.

Estate of F. Carnilleo, deceased; petition of D. B. Hannah and T. J. Carter; demurrer filed, argued and submitted.

Petition of H. C. Shattuck and others filed for change of location of part of county road, in district No. 12, as follows: Commencing near Shattuck's house, thence to Luhnman's lane; petition, report of viewers and notes of survey read 2d time; ordered that said road be located as described by the viewers, and that the old road be vacated and closed.

SCHWEINHEIM HEARD FROM AGAIN.—The Victoria Colonist, of September 3d, has the subjoined items about Schweinger, the forger:

Schweinger appears to have reached the other side in safety. A letter from a correspondent at Port Townsend, dated yesterday, says: "The Victoria forger was in town yesterday, but made tracks at an early hour for Discovery Bay, on learning that he was an object of interest. He is reported to have sent from Victoria to Port Angeles for a canoe."

A requisition from Governor Seymour for the arrest of Schweinger, the forger, was issued yesterday. The wretched man is believed to be already in custody at Discovery Bay. Facts which have come to light since Schweinger's flight, prove that he carried on the same game successfully in New York, San Francisco and Portland. He is a man of considerable natural ability, gentlemanly address and insinuating manners, and should he escape punishment on the present charge, will be heard of again unfavorably.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—The Grand Lodge of I. O. of G. T. of Oregon and Washington Territory, which has been in session here since Tuesday last, adjourned yesterday at 5 o'clock P. M. This session was a most interesting one, and much was done to promote the future welfare and prosperity of the order. The attendance was large, although many lodges failed to send representatives At the close of the session the following resolutions were offered and adopted:

Resolved, That the G. W. Secretary be directed to furnish the daily papers of this city with the statement that the action of the Grand Lodge on the appeal of the older question, was, that drinking cider, as a beverage, is a violation of the Good Templar's obligation.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Grand Lodge are hereby tendered to the People's Transportation Company for their liberality in reducing the fare of representatives to and from the Grand Lodge.

T. H. CRAWFORD, G. W. S.

SUPERIOR STYLE OF PIANO.—Mr. H. Sinsheimer, of H. Sinsheimer & Co., of New York, received here by the bark Almatia, one of the Co.'s make of the celebrated "Bell-metal patent agraffe pianoforte"—an instrument of very superior finish and tone. As the name indicates, it is furnished with a bell-metal agraffe which produces from the shortest strings a tone as clear and musical as is elicited from any of the middle notes of pianos constructed in the old way. The instrument in question has a range of seven and one-third octaves, and yet every note is clear and melodious. Besides the bell-metal agraffe, it has all the modern improvements. Mr. Sinsheimer informs us that he will constantly have this style of piano on hand and will sell them at New York prices The instrument received by the Almatia will be exhibited at the State fair.

HEAVY CONTRACTS LET.—Contracts were yesterday awarded by Col. Babbitt, Chief Quartermaster of this Department, for the delivery at the post of Camp Crook, of 740,000 pounds of oats or barley, 370 tons of hay and 700 cords of wood Messrs Crawford & Co secured the contract to furnish the wood at $12, per cord, the hay at $46 per ton and half the barley at a shade over 1½c per pound. The contract for this delivery of the other half of the barley was awarded to Mr. Oppenheimer, at a shade over 1½c per pound. These prices are in coin or legal tenders at their market value.

THE M. E. CHURCH FRONT WINDOW.—The mammoth window frame for the front of the M. E. Church building was successfully moved yesterday from Mr. Walker's factory to the place of its destination, on a card built for the special purpose. It was handled by seventy men, under the direction of Mr Nestor, and will be set in its place to-day. Those who have not seen this beautiful piece of workmanship, would do well to pay it a visit.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Frank Bolton had an examination before the Recorder, yesterday morning, on the charge of stealing a boat, and was held to answer at the next term of the Circuit Court, bail being fixed at $250. M. Nickum, the principal witness, was required to recognize for his appearance, in the sum of $100.

NEW STYLES OF HATS.—The fall and winter styles of silk hats will be opened to-day at Meussdorffer's manufactory, No. 72 Front street. In addition to these, he has the Sitka Hat for fall or winter wear—a very neat and cheap style Call and see Meussdorffer to-day.

THE FIRELITER.—This steamer arrived from Victoria yesterday, having made a quick trip to the mouth of the river, and a rather lengthy one from Astoria here. The delay to the Columbia river was occasioned by the breaking of a crank pin of one of the engines.

CRICKET ENGLISH.—This morning appears a notice from the Pioneer Base Ball Club, that the first nine will play, if challenged, at the coming State Fair, any club in Oregon or Washington Territory Here is a chance to win or lose laurels. Who speaks first?

RAIN.—After an extraordinarily long spell of dry weather, things in general were wet down yesterday by a right smart sprinkle of rain. Should it continue for some days it will enable the farmers to plow their grounds for fall crops.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SOCIETY.—At the annual meeting of the Portland Sunday School Society, Wednesday evening, Rev. C. C. Stratton was elected Superintendent; B. P. Quivey, Secretary; O. W. Parish, Treasurer, and L. Masters, Librarian.

IN UNIFORM.—The first nine of the Pioneer Base Ball Club will play this afternoon in full uniform against the field. Game on the grounds across the river at 4 30, precisely. Members are requested to be present at four o'clock.

WILLAMETTE FATIGUES.—Arrived per steamer Senator, from Oregon City, yesterday: 746 qr sks flour, 52 gunnies bacon, 204 bags oats, 135 sheep-skins, 37 dry hides, 1 ton pig iron, 1 small machine and a lot of empty ale casks

GOOD TEMPLARS' ORGAN.—The Corvallis Gazette has again been chosen by the Grand Lodge of Good Templars as the organ of the order in Oregon and Washington Territory.

WIZARD MARTIN.—This celebrated magician will arrive at Portland by the steamer Oriflamme, which sails today, and will give a series of entertainments here.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—This Court convened yesterday morning, and adjourned without transacting any business.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—The Oriflamme will leave San Francisco this morning for Portland.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

Travelers are always liable to sudden attacks of dysentery and cholera morbus, and these occurring when absent from home are very unpleasant. PERRY DAVIS VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER may always be relied upon in such cases As soon as you feel the symptoms, take one teaspoonful in a gill of new milk and molasses, and a gill of hot water. Stir well together and drink hot. Repeat the dose every hour until relieved. If the pains be severe, bathe the bowels and back with the medicine, clear.

Fishermen, so often exposed to hurts by having their skin pierced with hooks and fins of fish, can be much relieved by bathing with a little Pain Killer as soon as the accident occurs; in this way the anguish is soon abated; bathe as often as once in five minutes, say three or four times, and you will seldom have any trouble. Sold by dealers everywhere.

MANHOOD AND YOUTHFUL VIGOR are regained by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

Religion is but another word for the mind, according to what it is, acting in the spirit of love toward God and toward man.

"Nor by any hand but Christ's was forged one single link of the golden chain that binds believers to the skies."—Guthrie.

Speak in commendation of every one who is true to truth, even though he be an adversary and hate thee.

The cross of Christ is the center to which everything tends, the summary of the history of the universe.

The anger of God is no furious agitation, but the judgment which awards punishment to sin.

Don't be too severe upon yourself and your own feelings; keep on, don't faint, be energetic to the last.

If you wish to keep your mind clear and body healthy, abstain from all fermented liquors.

If you desire the common people to treat you as a gentleman, you should conduct yourself as a gentleman should toward them.

I will answer for it, the longer you read the Bible, the more you will like it; and the more you get into the spirit of it, the more you get into the spirit of Christ.

Hath any wronged thee? Be bravely revenged; slight it, and the work's begun; forgive it, and 'tis finished. He is below himself that is not above an injury.—Quarles.

Keep up the habit of being respected, and do not attempt to be more amusing and agreeable than is consistent with the preservation of respect.

"I wish I could mind God as my little dog minds me," said a little boy, looking thoughtfully upon his shaggy friend; "he always looks so pleased to mind, and I don't."

Remember that every person, however low, has rights and feelings. In all contentions let peace be rather your object than triumph; value triumph only as the means of peace.

A firm faith is the best theology; a good life the best philosophy; a clear conscience the best law; honesty the best policy; and temperance the best physic.

Do not attempt to frighten children and inferiors by passion. It does more harm to your own character than it does good to them. The same thing is better done by firmness and persuasion.

Find fault when you must find fault, in private, if possible, and sometime after the offence rather than at the time. The blamed are less inclined to resist when they are blamed without witnesses.

When you meet with neglect let it arouse you to exertion; instead of mortifying your pride, set about lessening those defects which expose you to neglect, and improve those excellencies which command attention and respect.

What a beautiful example for all of us is the resolution of that old lady, who from a crabbed and anxious lady became quite the opposite. When asked what had induced the change, she replied: "To tell the truth, I have been all my life striving for a contented mind, and have finally succeeded, but down contented without it."

While men wait on watch for chances, one man makes chances and while ten wait for something to turn up, turns something up; so, while ten fail in success, odds and is called a man of luck or favored by fortune. There is no luck like pluck and fortune most favors those who are most indifferent to fortune.

It is something to be a true Christian. Let that never be forgotten. To be a mere nominal Christian—to go to church, is cheap and easy work. But to hear Christ's voice and to follow Christ and believe in Christ, and confess Christ, requires much self denial. It will cost us our sins and our self-righteousness, and our ease, and our worldliness.

Nothing teaches patience like a garden. You may go around and watch the opening bud from day to day, but it takes its own time, and you cannot urge it on faster than it will. If forced it is only torn in pieces. All the best results of a garden like those of life, are slowly but regularly progressive, affording great pleasure to those who can take pride in it.

As you would be lovely in the sight of God, strive to be like Christ. Certainly it is the Spirit of Christ within you, and the beauty of Christ upon you, which only can make you lovely; the more you resemble him in holiness, the more you will manifest of true excellence, and the more frequent and spiritual your communion with Christ, the more of the loveliness of Christ will be stamped upon your spirits, changing you into the same image, from glory to glory.

Rev. Mr. Wells, a delegate from the Free Church of Scotland to the Old School General Assembly at Cincinnati, made some statements in regard to the method of working in Scotland, which seem very much in accordance with the views of church obligation one would derive from the New Testament. It would be well for the world if all churches of every name were actuated by a similar sense of Christian duty. He said:

"A congregation finds a neglected district; missionaries are appointed, Sabbath schools organized and the whole district is saturated and pervaded with Christian influences. I would call your attention to this fact. We are not satisfied with meeting in schools, or with prayer meetings, or with anything else that does not look to the establishment of a church in that locality. We find that this prospect is a stimulus to the missionary and to the people. No congregation with means is considered as having done its duty with us unless it has established one or more churches. Barrenness is esteemed the greatest of reproaches. That church is most honored which is most truly a mother church. Signal success has attended this scheme. It has been wonderfully blessed of God. Outcasts are now the salt of the earth, and those once sunk in the depths of degradation are now an honor to the Church of Christ—the joy and crown of our churches. Some of these congregations increase with great rapidity, reporting one and two hundred additions to the church within a year, on profession of their faith."

Beecher has the following on the right kind of preaching:

Men are all the time speaking of the pulpit transcending its mission, and going into subjects that do not belong to it. They are ignorant of the first elements of the ordinances of the pulpit. Where the heart of man travels, there is the voice of man in the pulpit, if the pulpit is faithful. Where the world takes a man, there also must go the voice of the preacher. Whatever in human life perplexes the conscience, darkens the understanding, confounds the reason or the moral elements, demands that an exposition of the truth should be applied to it from the pulpit. And, instead of making the pulpit narrower, in proportion as life becomes broader, and in proportion as civilization covers a greater number of men, in proportion as the richness and complexity of men increases, in that proportion the pulpit must broaden and deepen and multiply, or it will drift hopelessly down the stream down behind men. The trouble with the church, or with the pulpit, is not that it meddles with things that do not concern it; but that it does not meddle enough with things that do concern it. It is because it goes either side of human life, and does not strike the chords of common sympathy and feeling. Various reasons are given why men do not go to church. The fact is they are not fed when they do go. Human nature is true to itself, and men will not go where they are not fed. If there was a discriminating preacher in the pulpit, and with better moral convictions, and with a better balanced state of mind; if he sent them away feeling that the sermon went home with them, and that they need it, the church would be a place to which people would resort far more than they do now. And never was there a time when men wanted religious truth as much as now. Never was there a time when so many were hungry for knowledge of things that pertain to manhood here and hereafter as at this very day. And when they go to church, and get nothing but cut straw, and straw raised five hundred years ago at that, and will not come again, I honor them! I lay this law as much to myself as to my brethren. I never scolded you for not coming to church, and I never will. I do not mean here, for you almost always fill this house; but if my prayer-meetings and lectures are not well attended, it is my fault, and not yours. I know it. I do not believe, as long as human nature remains true to what it is, that the herds will refuse to come to the rack when there is juicy fodder there; and if they do not come it is because there is nothing to eat. Therefore, when our evening meetings have fallen off, I have always said to myself, "You are falling off, and not the people." Even when I have not remedied evil, I have known the cause of it all the time. And, on the other hand, the moment my own soul was full, and my sympathies flowed out in overwhelming tides toward my fellow men, I have noticed that my meetings have gone up. If a man sleeps under my preaching, I do not send a boy to wake him up, but I feel that a boy had better come and wake me up.

A sailor, sailing upon a goldsmith, asked him what might be the value of an ingot of gold as big as his arm. The shopkeeper beckoned him into a back room and primed him with grog, for the absorption of which the sailor showed great capacity. He then asked to see the ingot. "Oh," said Jack, "I haven't got it yet; but I'm going to the diggings and would like to know the value of such a lump before I start."

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P. M., Sept 6, 1867

Our latest quotation of gold at New York was September 3d, when it was 142, showing more firmness than on the day before. On the evening of the 4th legal tenders in San Francisco were 71¼@71¾.

Flour in New York on the 4, was selling at $13 75, steady, with fair demand; wheat, at $2 65, quiet.

The jobbing business of this city during the week, has exhibited a constantly increasing activity, and our dealers are indulging in the confident belief that the period of dullness has finally passed away. The causes which combined to make the early part of the season the dullest experienced for several years, have mostly been removed and business is likely to be at least fair during the remainder of the season. The heavy stocks accumulated in the stores of the Willamette Valley, the Upper Columbia, Eastern Oregon and Idaho, during last winter and spring, have been nearly or quite worked off, and dealers are now looking to this city for a great proportion of the supplies needed for fall and winter. Every succeeding day finds in our market a greater number of buyers from all the interior towns and mining camps. In the spring, it will be recollected, the public mind was imbued with the belief that a financial crisis was near, and that business transactions were cramped and close as a consequence of the general want of confidence. There is now no longer any fears of that kind and there is, of course, a healthy reaction in business.

Flour—the Montana took away last evening 6,584 qr sks, leaving the stock on hand rather meagre. The supplies from the interior mills are limited and will continue so till the early rains come and improve the navigation of the Willamette river. Prices remain firm but without change.

Bacon—is weaker. Two weeks ago we advised farmers who were holding in expectation of a big price, that they would do well to sell soon as the then advancing tendency in prices was only temporary. The quotation of a decline is clear, this week, proves that we were correct. Prices undoubtedly reached their highest notch last week, and within the next month or six weeks, will be down again to near the level of May and June. By the end of this month, the California make of 1867 will begin to come into market, the effect of which on the demand here, is not difficult to foresee.

In the produce market there are no other changes to note in either buying or selling prices.

Groceries—are in excellent demand for the interior markets. The leading houses have had a very busy week and there are buyers enough in the city to make a good prospect for the coming week. Sugars of all grades are up and prices are firm. There is no disposition to sell on terms easier than the figures quoted. Of salt large supplies have been received by steamer and the bark Almatia. Liverpool has dropped from $45 to $40 per ton.

Hardware—without change in prices. Nails, however, are weak at quotations. Business somewhat less lively than last week.

Agricultural implements—we given revised list, omitting such goods as are out of season and quoting several articles not hitherto in the list. Trade quiet.

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

PORTLAND, Sept. 6, 1867.

No change in quotations. Business a little better than last week. Cotton goods rather weak at the figures quoted. The demand for woolen goods for the mining regions east of us, has been constantly increasing since the 1st of June and the trade now amounts to a handsome figure. The largest part of such goods, of course, is made up clothing. The miners prefer Oregon wool clothing to the make of other California or the Atlantic States. California goods are made in considerable part of hurry wool, which cannot be entirely cleaned of the sharp points of burs, and which is, therefore, uncomfortable for wear. The States woolen goods are lighter than ours and contain a considerable per centage of shoddy. Oregon clothing, therefore, stands first in all the mining markets. The firm of L. Fleischner & Co., during the months of June, July and August sold Oregon manufactured goods to the amount of $60,000, and of piece goods about $18,000. The August sales were nearly all to Blackfoot, Montana, dealers. The same firm has now on hand and to fill, orders to the amount of $20,000, for various points in Montana and Idaho.

"CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE."

J. H. UPTON & A. NOLTNER, Proprietors.

ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1867, A LARGE SIZE WEEKLY PAPER, with the above title, will be issued at SALEM, OREGON.

The CHRONICLE will be devoted to Politics, News, and the development of the varied resources of the State. In politics the CHRONICLE will be unflinchingly Democratic, supporting and advocating all those reforms in National and State policy, so urgently demanded at the present time by every consideration involving the weal of the American people. The necessity for a Democratic organ firmly planted at the Capital, will be at once apparent to every thinking Democrat in the State. Such a one we propose to make the CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE, and with the State thoroughly Democratic to-day, with all prospective changes in favor of that party, there is no valid reason why the enterprise shall not prove a complete success.

While the CHRONICLE will devote ample space to the discussion of political topics, the News of the day, the Agricultural, Mining, Mechanical and Manufacturing interests of the State at large will receive due attention. A twenty-eight column paper, 20x28 inches in size, will furnish ample space and enable us to present in each number an amount of reading matter equal to the importance of the interests involved. We only ask at the hands of the people that legitimate patronage which shall enable us to present a sheet in every way creditable to ourselves and the State—one which none may have the least reason to be ashamed of.

All contracts for advertising and subscription existing with the late Democratic Review will be faithfully executed by the proprietor of the CHRONICLE.

Terms of Subscription:

Single copy, one year	$3 00
Five copies, one year	13 75
Ten copies, one year	25 00

And for any greater number, one year, at the rate of $2 50 each.

Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah—ss.

I JEREMIAH BROCK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Yamhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business, on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr. Rennick's offer to bet that he would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennicks offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr. Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever. JEREMIAH BROCK.
